About the opportunity

Dubbo Health Service is now looking for a Full Time Staff Specialist in Haematology to join the team in Dubbo.

The Staff Specialist will join a fast growing and dynamic multi-disciplinary team who are providing services to the biggest rural health district in NSW, and at 250,000 sq km is one of the largest in the country. Given the large geographical area encompassed by our district, improved delivery of service to these rural and remote communities is a focus of the facility, including the provision of clinical trials.

The current Haematology team at Dubbo comprises of two Haematologists and one Clinical Nurse Specialist. This is largely an outpatient service, with rare inpatients, but planning to move to limited inpatient service with increased staffing over time. This position will join the team and will be based in Dubbo at the new Western Cancer Centre with opportunities available to do lab work and outreach clinics.

The Western Cancer Centre is a brand new centre that opened recently and provides holistic services to Western NSW. The centre has expanded and upgraded clinical services including 16 Chemotherapy chairs, Radiotherapy services, and PET scanner.

Where you'll be working

You will be based at Dubbo Health Service, a part of the Western NSW Local Health District and a major rural referral hospital providing critical care, specialist medical inpatient and outpatient services, surgery, dialysis, cardiac investigations, mental health and many specialised allied health and medical outreach services.

There is an adjacent medical school and the hospital also trains medical students, junior medical staff and registrars, both basic and advanced trainees. The hospital has almost finished a staged redevelopment, with only one stage left in the total redevelopment plan.
